

Figure 13. DNA Methylation and Deamination

Cytosine nucleotides that are methylated (Me) may be bound by methyl DNA-binding proteins (MBD). Unbound 5-methylcytosine is prone to spontaneous mutation through deamination (reaction shown in the lower panel), resulting in a 5-methyl CpG to TpA transition in the DNA sequence.